We are an AAHA-accredited practice. Our doctors work together to reach diagnoses and see cases. Any case requiring diagnostics will have at least one other veterinarian looking at the case to help reach a diagnosis. We are quick to adopt technology that allows us to better serve our patients. Our doctors work less than 35 hours a week. We believe that the practice of modern veterinary medicine requires a team approach that uses technology intelligently to allow for our doctors to do concentrate on their cases while staying cognizant of their mental health. We partner with an owner founded rescue to serve our local community and help find homes for pets that require treatment for medical issues that are not well treated at city shelters. Our 3 full time doctors have over 120 years of co...
